Top 20 APAC Country Analysis: Singapore

20 June 2015 | Analysis | By BioSpectrum Bureau

Top 20 APAC Country Analysis: Singapore

Singapore:

Singapore's bioscience industry has slowed down

Highlights

â€¢ Singapore collaborated with Korea to train and develop skilled talent in innovative medical technologies â€¢ Medical technology giants in Singapore including Johnson & Johnson, Medtronics, GE Healthcare and BD joined hands to form a medical technology industry platform to foster growth, innovation and policy development in medtech sector across Asia â€¢ Troubled British drugmaker GlaxoSmithKline plans to establish new headquarters in Singapore to manage its Asia operations â€¢ Singapore witnessed growth in medical technology manufacturing by 12.2 percent in the first month of 2015â€¢ Japan-based drug giant, Chugai pharmaceuticals to invest nearly $490 million in its research and development center in Singapore â€¢ Taiwan based Delta Electronics invested in Singapore to develop next-generation infectious disease detection kits in collaboration with A*STAR â€¢ Singapore and GE Healthcare sealed a five-year technology research and development collaboration agreement with an investment of $20 million to co-develop the next generation of medical technologies â€¢ Singapore launched Diagnostics Development hub to develop local diagnostic products with investment in clinicians, researchers, innovators and entrepreneurs